

Swarthmore College
Department of Sociology and Anthropology
REGULARIZED SPECIAL MAJOR: Medical Anthropology

The Medical Anthropology major consists of at least 10 credits and no more than 12 credits.

Students with special majors complete a minimum of six courses in the primary department.

No more than one credit from any single department will be counted toward this special major.

Submit completed form to socanth@swarthmore.edu. This form is only for the benefit of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology.

Please discuss with your advisor if there are changes to your plan, and resubmit to socanth@swarthmore.edu

NAME _____ ID# _____ GRAD YEAR _____

TITLE OF SPECIAL MAJOR: MEDICAL ANTHROPOLOGY- S049 Check for Honors?

COMPREHENSIVE EXERCISE: SOAN: Senior Research Project

List Course Information below. Important Note: There is a 10-credit minimum and 12-credit maximum

	Course	Course Title	Semester/Year	Credits
1	ANTH 001	Foundations: Culture, Power, Meaning		1
2		Methods in the SOAN dept:		1
3	SOAN 098	SOAN: Senior Research Project Master Class		0
4		Fall Senior Research Project		1
5		Spring Senior Research Project		1
6	ANTH 043 and/or ANTH 049B	Culture, Health, and Illness		1
		Comparative Perspective on the Body		1
7
8
9
10
11
12

Anthropology Professor, Signature and Date

Requirements, at least 10 credits:

1. ANTH 001. Foundations: Culture, Power, Meaning
2. one methods course in the SOAN department
3. Senior Research Project (to be discussed with advisor and developed beginning with declaration of special major)
4. At least one of the following two courses in the SOAN department:

ANTH 043E. Culture, Health, and Illness

ANTH 049B. Comparative Perspectives on the Body

5. At least five additional approved courses. Students are encouraged to tailor their courses outside the department to their particular areas of interest.

Up to four credits from outside of the department, may be included as part of the special major, with permission from SOAN. (Tri-CO and UPENN courses are encouraged).

Please note, that no more than one credit from any single department will be counted toward this special major.

- Additional recommended courses to consider:

ANTH 002F. Anthropology of Childhood and the Family

ANTH 003G. First-Year Seminar: Development and its Discontents

ANTH 039C. Food and Culture

ANTH 053B. Anthropology of Public Health

ANTH 133. Anthropology of Biomedicine

SOCI 001. Foundations: Self, Culture, and Society

SOAN 035. Environmental Justice: Theory and Action

ECON 075. Health Economics

ENGL 002M. Medical Writing and Rhetoric

ENVS 035. Environmental Justice: Theory and Action

HIST 066. The Social Construction of Diseases in the Modern World

HIST 067T. The Pandemic of Cigarette Smoking: Habit, Addiction and Public Health in the Big Tobacco Archives

HIST 080. History of the Body

POLS 048. The Politics of Population

POLS 068. Politics of Public Health

PSYC 038. Clinical Psychology

RELG 031. Healing Praxis and Social Justice

Explore course offerings in the Tri-co Health Studies Program and at the Health & Societies program at UPENN. Studying abroad could also be a valuable opportunity for the study of medical anthropology. Please consult with your advisor for guidance on course selection beyond Swarthmore.

In putting together the special major, it is advisable that the student only designate ten courses as part of the major. That way there will be no problems with the 20-course rule.